COUNTY MEETS TO DISCUSS HEALTH BOARD

Commissioners Hear State Health Secretary Outline Plans

PROGRAM WOULD PROVIDE AID FROM COMMONWEALTH

Montgomery county commissioners met with State health authorities in Norristown yesterday to discuss setting up a county-wide health board.

Foster C. Hillegas and Raymond K. Mensch spoke at length to Dr. Russell E. Teague, State Secretary of Health, who pointed out the advantages of the proposed system over the present health program.

Representatives of various social service agencies and private health organizations were also on hand in the court house to hear Dr. Teague speak of the proposed program which was made possible by a bill passed at the last session of the State Legislature.

The bill specifies that various counties can set up their own health boards with financial aid from the State, which would take the place of township and borough health services, provided "the local boards consented to come in under the program."

DR. TEAGUE emphasized that the services offered by the county "would be far superior and people would get more efficient use out of their health dollar."

He said the ten first class townships, 24 boroughs, ranging in population from 550 to 48,745 and 28 second class townships, are now serviced by "35 independent health programs without coordination and

Youth's Back Hurt, Bull Tramples Him In Stall of Barn

A Pottstown RD 2 college student suffered a possible broken back when trampled by a bull yesterday afternoon shortly after he returned home to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his mother.

Robert Amole, 23, was driven in a Good Will ambulance by William Tosto and Hiram Keim to Pottstown hospital where he was X-rayed and admitted after he was found lying badly injured in the barn owned by his grandfather, David F. Bitler, Pottstown RD 2, at 2:30 o'clock.

E. Beatrice Bitler, Amole's aunt, discovered Amole lying in the bull's stall after she investigated his cry for help. He had called out when he heard his aunt's car enter the barnyard.

Miss Bitler, a nurse at the Lawrence school, Lawrenceville, N. J., who also was returning home for the holiday, gave this account of the accident:

Amole had gone to his grand-

Speed Traps Await More Equipment

Sgt. Daniel J. Linton said yesterday afternoon that Pottstown's speed traps will not go into operation until three more warning signs are erected and necessary wiring connections are made.

He also said the hours of the traps' operation by borough police "will be at my discretion" and that those hours will not be disclosed to the public.

The three signs will be located on North Charlotte street near the borough line for southbound traffic, and at the north and south ends of Hanover street.

The first two signs were erected Tuesday on West and East High streets.

Two Persons Hurt, Cars Damaged in Three Accidents

Two persons were injured slightly and two automobiles damaged in three accidents in Pottstown yesterday afternoon and early last night.

Roy Brumm, 21, of Pottstown RD 2, suffered a scratched right arm at High and Hanover streets when he was knocked to the ground as he crossed from the north to the south side of High street at 3 o'clock.

He said the car did not stop and he was unable to obtain its license number, but the driver of the auto, Mrs. George Wayock Jr., 619 Spruce street, later reported the accident to police.

MRS. WAYOCK said she saw Brumm crossing the street and a man crossing from the south side to the north and thought while turning her car, that she would hit neither of them.

She said she realized she had grazed the boy, but could not stop

Many Local Plants Will Close for Holiday

The wheels of production will grind to a halt today as many of Pottstown's plants observe the Thanksgiving holiday.

Stanley G. Flagg company employees left the plant at 3:30 p. m. yesterday to rest and enjoy their Thanksgiving feast before returning to their jobs Friday.

Doehler-Jarvis corporation began an extended holiday at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Firestone Tire and Rubber company will cease turning out rubber and plastics goods for 24 hours. The holiday observance, begun there at 11 o'clock last night, will end tonight at 11 o'clock.

JACOBS AIRCRAFT ENGINE COMPANY will go back to work at midnight tonight after a 24-hour rest.

Spicer division of Dana Manufacturing corporation will resume operations at 7 a. m. tomorrow after a full day of inactivity in the plant. Only the drafting department at Bethlehem Steel company will take time off from regular duties today. The rest of the plant will continue to operate under a full schedule.

Lucky Shopper Pleasantly Surprised

Joan Ludy, Pottstown RD 3, is thankful she did her shopping in the borough's Santa Clausland. She was yesterday's winner of the $2.50 cash award presented by the Mercantile bureau.

grapher's camera lens while she strolled through the Sun Ray Drug company store, 213 High street.

"I never won any kind of a prize before in all my life," she remarked as she picked up her cash award at The Mercury office yesterday.

O. C. Beacraft (center), who was made manager of the Pottstown Automobile club shortly after it was formed in 1929, was given a testimonial dinner last night at Lakeside Inn in honor of his retirement announced the past April. On the left is R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor federation, and on the other side of him is John H. Longaker, Pottstown attorney and club solicitor who acted as master of ceremonies at the affair. Beacraft became manager of the Auto club when membership was slightly over 1000. In his years of service membership increased to 14,000.

Horace Hughes Named As Manager, Secretary of Pottstown Auto Club

Horace A. Hughes, assistant for the past 21 years to O. C. Beacraft, retiring secretary-manager of Pottstown Automobile club, will succeed Beacraft in this post with the 14,000-member club.

Beacraft announced this last night at a testimonial dinner given him by auto club directors at Lakeside Inn. The club's executive board had elected Hughes as his successor at its meeting the past month but did not make the news public until last night.

Administrator Expects Work To Be Started Early Next Spring

Plans for a $120,000 new wing at Memorial hospital were announced yesterday by Albert P. Pollick, hospital administrator.

The proposed project, which has been in the planning and discussion stage for the past four months, has been approved by State authorities, leaving the way clear for Federal financial aid.

"If all goes according to schedule, construction should start sometime in the early Spring," Pollick said.

The administrator said that Charles R. Wylie, president of the hospital board of directors, and Jack Hoffman, chairman of the finance committee, received approval of the project Nov. 17 from Ira J. Mills, director of the Bureau of Homes and Hospitals, State Department of Welfare.

At the same time, application was made for 40 percent of building costs under the Hill-Burton Act, which provides for a Federal grant.

Pollick said that the new wing project was initiated through requests made by local physicians due to demands placed on them by patients for additional hospital bed space.

In revealing the overcrowded conditions at Memorial hospital, the administrator pointed out that during the two years, ending May 31, 1952, the monthly average occupancy of available facilities was 84.8 percent.

"The American Hospital association feels that 80 to 85 percent occupancy calls for maximum operating efficiency and is good reason for expansion," he said.

ALTHOUGH THE NEED for the new wing was discussed at some length by Pollick and Wylie, who as former administrator was aware of the crowded conditions, general discussion did not take place until the past August's board meeting.

As a result of this first planning

140 PATIENTS READY FOR BIG DINNER TODAY

Both Hospitals Plan Full Turkey Feast With All Trimmings

They may be in the hospital, but they won't miss out on their Thanksgiving dinners.

Patients who are not on restricted diets will join with the rest of Pottstown tomorrow in feasting on turkey. The only difference in the patients' dinners will be that they will be eaten from trays attached to beds and not from family tables.

A. C. Seawell and Albert P. Pollick, administrators respectively of Pottstown and Memorial hospitals, agreed readily on that yesterday afternoon.

Both administrators said much of the turkey eaten on this holiday every year is contributed by Pottstown area business establishments.

Raincoats, Blankets Grid Fans' 'Must'

Be sure to take raincoats and blankets with you if you plan to attend the Pottstown-Downingtown or any of the other area high school football games today.

The weatherman forecasts cloudiness and a drop in temperature plus a chance of rain this morning.

Those traveling to the western part of the State will find that section cloudy, windy and much colder, with probable snow flurries.

Cloudiness and occasional rain were expected last night in the New Jersey shore resorts, but the rain, the weatherman adds, should end this afternoon.

Mercury Published On Holiday Schedule

This Thanksgiving edition of The Mercury went to press at 9 o'clock last night.

The business department will be closed all day today. The editorial department will open at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the classified advertising department will be open from 6 to 8 p. m. The circulation department will be open all day.

Last night's late news developments will be covered fully in tomorrow's Mercury.

Another Reason to Be Thankful

The attractive young lady in the ringed photo has one more thing to be thankful for on Thanksgiving Day. She is the winner of the daily $2.50 cash award given by the Mercantile bureau. The bonus for being the subject for The Mercury's photographer while shopping in Santa Clausland will buy part of a turkey to satisfy healthy appetites. The prize will be given to other shoppers who find their photographs ringed in The Mercury throughout the Christmas season. When you see your face peering through the ring, hurry to The Mercury office and claim your prize money.

SCHOOL BOARD PLANS CANVASS FOR TAX INCOME

Teachers to Run Survey Of Borough, Plus School Census

A plan to increase tax revenue for the Pottstown school district is taking shape.

School board members expect to authorize an occupational tax assessment canvass of the entire borough.

They plan to employ school teachers to conduct the canvass and to make the school population census at the same time.

H. Bert Shaw, school board president, said, "I don't know when the plan will be approved, but we have seriously considered it as a way to insure a higher collection rate of occupational taxes."

THE PLAN was suggested by Treasurer William H. Yohn this past Fall as a way to increase revenue.

A State law passed in recent months provides for the collection of delinquent occupational taxes.

When the plan is approved teachers will be assigned a given districts.

By this method all 21-year-old persons living in the borough will be accounted for and will be required to pay the board's occupation tax.

The plan, originally discussed,

GENERAL PLACES VANDENBERG IN OFFICIAL FAMILY

Son of Late Senator
Named White House
Secretary

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—President-Elect Eisenhower chose another member of his official family today—his White House secretary.

Eisenhower named Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., son of the late Michigan Senator, as White House secretary. He will succeed Matthew Connelly.

James C. Hagerty, press secretary to the president-elect, said Vandenberg's duties would include the handling of appointments with the president, "among other things."

Hagerty said two additional appointments, other than cabinet positions, will be announced tomorrow at 3 p. m. Pottstown time at Eisenhower headquarters.

He also said the staff would work over the weekend here and that there will be daily lists of the president-elect's engagements, as well as announcements of additional appointments to offices in the new administration.

HAGERTY TOLD reporters the president-elect has a schedule of appointments that runs through next Sunday.

Eisenhower will spend Thanksgiving Day at home, but will return to his office on Friday and work through the weekend. Hagerty said Vandenberg will be entrusted with expanded duties.

Vandenberg has been a member of Eisenhower's immediate staff since the beginning of his campaign for the GOP nomination and then the presidency.

Earlier today the president-elect received a complete report on Korea from Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, who returned from there the past weekend. Later, Eisenhower's office announced that William P. Rogers of Bethesda, Md., will be deputy attorney general in the next administration.

Mrs. Rosenberg, who is in charge of manpower in the Defense department, laughed off questions as to whether Eisenhower had asked her to remain in the post.

Vishinsky Tells UN Red China Rejected India's Peace Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the UN Political Committee today that Red China rejected India's compromise peace plan for Korea two days ago. That was the same day Vishinsky turned it down for the Soviet Union.

The United States delegation said while Vishinsky spoke that it will leave up to President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower any further moves for peace in Korea if the Indian plan is officially and finally rebuffed by the Communist Chinese and the North Koreans.

A high Indian source said his delegation had received word only this morning of Red China's attitude, relayed through New Delhi.

"You can call it a rejection," this source said, "but we call it objections. The more objections we receive the more we must push our efforts."

Over the sustained and vociferous objections of Vishinsky the Political Committee voted 49 to 5, with Nationalist China abstaining, to give top priority to the Indian peace plan, which is expected to be amended in such a way as to meet US objections.

Rugged Real Estate Over Which UN Forces, Reds Duel Bloodily

Some idea of the bloody, discouraging task facing United Nations forces in Korea is given by this panoramic view of the stark terrain surrounding Triangle hill, which, with neighboring heights has been changing hands rapidly and repeatedly. To the left of the dominating

1000 Dock Workers Strike in New York Protesting Probe

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—A thousand defiant dock workers struck a busy section of New York's rackets-ridden waterfront today to protest a State crime probe of some of their union leaders. They were expected to resume work tomorrow.

Two of the world's biggest ships—the liners Queen Elizabeth and the United States—were caught in the tieup. Some 3000 of their passengers had to wrestle their own luggage ashore. Two smaller liners also were caught.

The Cunard line, which operates the Queen Elizabeth, called the work stoppage a "political strike."

The State Crime commission ignored the demonstration and went right on subpoenaing members of the AFL International Longshoremen's association to ask them about waterfront racketeering.

TWO KEY MEMBERS of the ILLA's Local 824 were summoned from midtown piers to testify in private before the commission. They refused to answer questions, however, and were told to come back for public hearings starting Dec. 3.

The two are Harold Bowers, a union organizer, and his ex-convict cousin, Mickey Bowers.

Members of their local refused to answer the morning subpoena, the lineup where dockers draw their daily pier assignments.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the ILLA, said:

"The hiring stevedores had been subpoenaed to appear before the State Crime commission this morning and the men complained that they would not go to work unless their hiring stevedores were on the piers."

Ohio Slayer Declines To Request Re-Trial

WILLIAMSPORT, Nov. 26 (AP)—A 32-year-old Ohio mechanic today declined to ask for a new trial after a Lycoming county jury found him guilty the past week in the fatal shooting of a baseball fan on Aug. 17.

"We are satisfied that the defendant was given a fair trial in all respects," said George M. Hess Jr., Williamsport, court-appointed counsel for Irwin P. Goff, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Goff was convicted Nov. 22 of first degree murder in the pistol slaying of Raymond Smith, 19, Monongahela, Pa., who was in Williamsport to attend the Little League State Baseball series. The jury recommended life imprisonment.

Judge Charles S. Williams, who presided over the trial, set Friday for formal sentencing.

Throughout the five-day trial no definite motive was established for the crime.

Thanksgiving Dinner for UN Troops More Elaborate Than Ever Before

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 27 (AP)—and oranges, candy, mixed nuts. American front line troops ate full and coffee.

"WE HAVE a large allowance of everything," said Col. J. D. Bell of La Canada, Calif., and Bellwood, Neb., the Eighth Army quarter-master. "Every man gets a real Thanksgiving dinner."

Some American outfits in the rear shared dinners with Korean war orphans. And everywhere, US army chaplains of all faiths arranged services for all soldiers who could be spared from the lines.

"Last year at this time we thought that peace would be here before Thanksgiving came around again," Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander told his troops.

"But it is Communism we are fighting, not the innocent North Koreans, or the Chinese people—and Godless Communism wants no peace until the free peoples of the world have all been enslaved under their world government."

"Let us all thank God that we have allies to fight with us and that we have a united team in Korea."

O'Dwyer Resigns as Ambassador To Mexico, Effective Midnight Dec. 6

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—William O'Dwyer resigned today as ambassador to Mexico.

The White House announced that his resignation has been received by President Truman and has been accepted effective at midnight, Dec. 6.

O'Dwyer is a former mayor of New York city.

He resigned the majority post in August, 1950, to accept an appointment as ambassador to Mexico.

After O'Dwyer left the country he became a controversial figure in the news.

THE SENATE crime committee said in one of its reports that he had contributed to the growth of crime in New York. An investigation had uncovered extensive evidence of police graft during his administration.

Demands were made by some members of Congress that Truman recall O'Dwyer but the President paid no heed to them.

O'Dwyer contended he had done nothing wrong. He once said: "My public life is a matter of record and a careful examination of that record will refute any attempt to associate it with anything that was not for the benefit of the people."

Only the past July, there were reports that O'Dwyer intended to resign and would remain in Mexico, practicing law there, and become a Mexican citizen.

O'Dwyer denied he intended to become a Mexican citizen and said he would submit his resignation as a normal procedure when President Truman's successor took office.

Seoul Clamped Under Measures Of Tight Security

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 27 (AP)—Seoul was clamped today under the tightest security measures this war-battered capital has even known.

Thousands of South Korean Army troops, metropolitan police and plain clothesmen turned the city into an armed camp as they took every precaution for the safety of President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower during his forthcoming visit to Korea.

An unannounced number of "security risks" were rounded up. Jails were packed with them.

Security guards were posted every 10 to 20 yards along the main thoroughfares.

South Korean President Syngman Rhee called a special cabinet meeting this afternoon in Seoul, presumably to discuss preparations for the Eisenhower visit and protocol in welcoming him.

Among the newcomers will be an old West Point classmate of Eisenhower's Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of United Nations ground forces in Korea.

An officer who knows both generals said "it will be a meeting of old buddies."

Eisenhower and Van Fleet were color sergeants at West Point in 1915, their graduation year. Eisenhower carried the national colors and Van Fleet the corps colors.

Van Fleet was a fullback on West Point's 1915 team. Eisenhower had to quit playing football in his sophomore year because of a knee injury.

On the football field Van Fleet liked to plug holes in the line. As a military commander, he still does.

New Mining System Reported by Bureau

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26 (AP)—The US Bureau of Mines reported today a safer, cheaper and more efficient vertical anthracite mining system has been tested successfully in a Pennsylvania colliery.

The new system, described in a Federal report as "longhole retreat mining," was developed by the bureau's anthracite research laboratory at Schuylkill Haven in co-operation with a large anthracite-producing company.

Controls May Slay Until Allowed to Die

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Administration seemed committed today to keep price and wage controls until Congress lets them die, perhaps on April 30.

After calling former price boss Michael V. DeSalle here to advise on control methods and policy during the swan-song days of the Administration, Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam told assembled OPS officials:

"I want everyone here to realize, and the public too, that we still have a job to do and a law to administer."

"We still need controls in many places."

Putnam favors a 14-month extension of anti-inflation powers—until mid-1954. He said he hoped DeSalle's return as a special consultant to him would quash reports of imminent abandonment of ceilings.

WILLIAM ROGERS, RACKET BUSTER, NAMED TO POST

Lawyer of Washington
Picked by Ike Deputy Attorney General

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—President-Elect Eisenhower today named William P. Rogers, of Bethesda, Md., young but experienced corruption and racket buster, as his deputy attorney general.

Rogers, 38, member of a Washington, D. C., law firm, is a political ally of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

His appointment coincided with a prediction by Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland that Eisenhower's Republican regime would crack down on corruption, "some of which has not even been suspected."

"Many who think they have fixed things with the attorney general and escaped their just penalties may find their cases reopened," McKeldin said in a speech here shortly before calling on Eisenhower.

THERE WAS NO WORD as to when Eisenhower would leave on his Korean trip.

But today he received a firsthand report on Korea from Mrs. Anna Rosenberg.

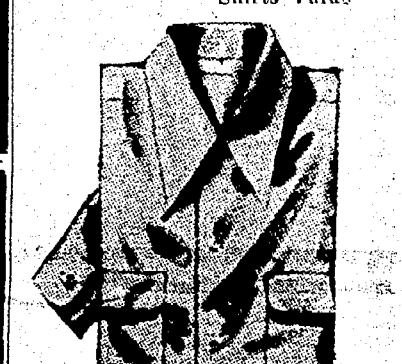

Asked whether the president-elect had asked her to remain in the Defense department, she laughed and said:

"I went to Washington only for eight months. That was two years ago."

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1952

From hence, let fierce contending nations know what dire effects from civil discord flow.—Joseph Addison.

Give Thanks Today

POTTSTOWN pauses from its toil today to give thanks for the bountiful gifts we have received in America, the land of the free.

Over the years we have become prone to look on this distinctly American holiday as simply a holiday from work, and an opportunity to attend a football game.

Thanksgiving Day has a greater significance, however. It is a day originally dedicated to giving special thanks to God for His blessings to a people struggling to establish themselves in a new and undeveloped land.

This great nation of ours has advanced remarkably since those first Thanksgiving Days. God has indeed been good to the people of this land. And we mustn't forget it. We must not take our blessings for granted, as something the world owes to us.

Today Pottstown's churches will observe special services for all to thank the Creator. But let's not stop at one service, one prayer. Let us make this a weekend of thanks, continuing the observance through Sunday. And then say thanks the remainder of the year!

In our churches let's offer prayers of thanks to Him who has successfully brought us to the close of another fruitful season.

Let's make it a week of Thanksgiving, acknowledging our blessings and praying for strength to help others in foreign lands whose homes have been ravaged by war, and who are in need of our help.

All of us will gain more joy, from the Thanksgiving holiday and football games if we first take time to recognize the blessings God has bestowed upon us.

The idea of Thanksgiving Day may have come to the Pilgrims from their sojourn in Holland before they set out for the New World.

They found the Dutch observing annually a day of thanks for deliverance from the Spaniards, and the Pilgrims joined in those celebrations.

So when the settlers in the Plymouth colony learned, in 1621, that the second winter in their new home promised to be less rigorous than that first one had been in 1620, the Dutch example of setting aside a day for thanksgiving must have come back to their minds.

The seeds planted in the Spring had yielded a good harvest, and game was plentiful. One Pilgrim wrote thus in 1621:—"Although it be not always so plentiful as it was at this time with us, yet by the goodness of God we are so far from want, that we often wish you partakers of our plenty."

A day to solemnize the gathering of the harvest is a custom that goes away back into antiquity.

The Greeks celebrated the feast of Demeter, goddess of harvests, and the Romans paid homage annually to Ceres, their harvest goddess. And the ancient Jews, a pastoral race, set the end of Summer, when the cattle-feeding crops were ready for gathering in Palestine, as the beginning of the New Year.

In 1623 the Pilgrim Fathers again had special cause for giving thanks; rain had ended a long drought, and a relief ship from England had been reported.

After some years the Massachusetts Bay Colony fell into the habit of celebrating a Thanksgiving day every year. In 1817 New York proclaimed an annual Thanksgiving Day; one by one the other states followed suit.

Thus we are reminded of our blessings. But we must pray that peace may come to the struggle that is taking so many of our young Americans' lives. Give thanks—and pray for peace.

High School Driver Asks Consideration

Student's Worried

To the Editor: I am very much concerned about the driving conditions in this town. As a student in the Pottstown Senior High school, I can feel very bad about the way some people in this town work against the driving teacher of the school.

He certainly is doing his part in giving the pupils the advantage of learning the best driving and safety techniques.

Some people seem to think that the only purpose of the driving course is to get some students behind the wheel of the car and pin drivers' licenses on them.

This is certainly the wrong impression for anyone to take. The reason for giving the instruction is to train the student in the best rules for safety, so that when a license is issued the driver will know how to better conduct and protect himself when in the car and behind the wheel.

Why some people complain about the driving of the students when behind the wheel of the driving car is beyond me. They say, "Go to the next block and leave our block undisturbed by your infernal driving."

Yet, when the morning paper tells

The name and complete address of the author must accompany every contribution but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 250 words will receive preference.

of a student who is injured in an automobile accident, the scoffer who is against driving instruction, shakes his head and says, "This modern generation!"

When will these people wake up and realize that the students are going to be the drivers of the future?

I hope that the people of our town will get behind Mr. Hamilton and support their children as they prepare to learn to drive so that they may be better qualified drivers in the future. As a student, I know that it annoys me to have these insinuations brought before me.

Please see what you can do, Mr. Editor, and Mr. and Mrs. Pottstown, to help Mr. Hamilton help our young people.

School Costs Too Much
To the Editor: It looks to me like the school board directors should make a move to discontinue operations to build a new school in the West End. When they first decided on the school it was agreed they would keep the cost down to $300,000. They planned a nice building. After plans were drawn, they were informed that the cost would be considerably higher. That's when they began cutting out some of the "non-essential" rooms providing for hardly anything in the building except classrooms and lavatories. Even after the cuts in the size of the building they failed to cut the cost any.

In fact, the cost for the smaller building with less rooms than originally planned for was $350,000, $50,000 more than the first estimate.

At the time the school board was told the cost of the building would be about $350,000 they were told not to count on that figure because building costs were going up and the total cost would probably be more.

In spite of that, the board hesitated to look into the future and see what was coming. Consequently they seem astounded that an estimate such as $450,000 could be made.

I am of the opinion that John B. Bunting of Janney and company, Philadelphia, knows what he is talking about when he says it will cost $450,000 to build the school.

Working with the company he represents, he probably has planned for dozens of other schools, not just the one or two at Pottstown. The present directors and Sanders and Thomas have taken part in planning for.

WASHINGTON Eisenhower Plans to Cut US Budget by 20 Billion

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26—Such technical terms as "re-examination" and "deauthorization" will become increasingly familiar to Congress and the American people under the Eisenhower Administration's plan to cut Federal expenditures by $10 billion for fiscal 1954 and an additional $10 billion in the following year.

Such economies in the swollen budgets of recent years may permit a possible reduction of 10 to 12 percent from the current peak rates, which now produce a revenue of almost $70 billion annually.

The transfer of this amount from the tax collectors' till to consumers for spending or investment is regarded by economists as one safeguard against a serious recession, when rearmament outlays decline to more normal levels.

CONTROL LOST: Several Capitol Hill committees have been studying Federal finances in executive sessions during the Summer. Their surveys show that Congress has lost complete control of public monies because it has been giving a blank check for long-range periods to the downtown spenders, and then forgotten about and failed to police the handout branch of the government.

Unless this careless and wasteful system is revised in accord with proposals to be submitted to the 83rd session early next year, it is estimated that Federal agencies will enjoy the exclusive power of deciding how $100 billion may be spent, even though the original purpose and program for using this vast amount may have become obsolete.

With economic, industrial, military and even geographic conditions changing so rapidly on the eve of the atomic age, it is generally agreed that Congress cannot appropriate in 1953 for projects that will not be completed until 1954 or 1955.

Almost every witness at these off-the-record hearings conceded that point, although certain spokesmen for the Interior and Defense Departments were reluctant to admit it. The proposed reform would curtail their style of spending the taxpayers' contributions.

UNEXPENDED BILLIONS: The military, for instance, now have an unexpended balance of almost $60 billion, and President Truman is expected to ask for another $40 billion for the 1954 fiscal year, which ends on June 30 of that year. The total will represent funds allocated over a 3-year period.

During that time there have been tremendous advances in such weapons as planes, tanks, artillery, etc., not to mention the manufacture of hundreds of atomic bombs and progress on the H-bomb.

Defense, however, is never asked to review its actual household needs and cost today, as against conditions which existed when they first presented their requests for funds. There has been an era of blind appropriating and blind spending at both ends.

CONDITIONS DENOUNCED: Senator Bridges of New Hampshire has promised an inquiry and review that may disclose what he regards as "scandalous conditions." Since he may be Senate Majority Leader, and also will have choice of chairmanship of the Appropriations and Armed Service Committees, his attitude will make the Pentagonites "snap into it." Nor is the presence of a military expert in the White House to be discounted.

"The whole defense program" says Bridges, "needs a top-to-bottom re-examination, reevaluation and possibly deauthorization of some funds already appropriated."

"The record is already replete with faulty procurement, purchases of antiquated equipment, failure to install economies on the basis of new discoveries and deficiency in war materials vitally needed in Korea and elsewhere. Congress must review the total military budget past and present, and do it continuously."

Gossip In Gotham

MILDRED JOANNE SMITH, the actress-singer who escaped death in one of Elizabeth, N. J. plane crashes, has resumed her singing career in cellar bistros. She hopes to go to Hollywood to star in an all-Negro film tailored for her along the lines of the Jane Froman story.

Chums say there's nothing wrong with the Marilyn Monroe-Joe Di Maggio idyll that her studio's approval of their marriage wouldn't cure. David Haft is dating Peggy Ann Garner these nights. Ray Stillman, one of Gotham's top fashion models, is the happy mama of a boy. Dad is bakery heir Jack Stillman.

Pat De Cicco and starlet Mary Jo Tarola will trek to the altar in California early in December; honeymoon in Hawaii. There's a rather sad little comedy going on in TV's vicious circles. Unemployed New York video writers are leaving for Hollywood in droves every day, in search of lusher pastures—beyond they're being replaced immediately by unemployed Hollywood screen writers who are swarming into New York looking for television jobs. . . . Cheesecake editors may now take the gas pipe. There's a scene in "Babes in Bagdad" where Paulette Goddard appears wearing nothing but a towel—but the boys forgot to take any stills of it.

ART MOONEY brings a new vocalist into the Paramount with him tomorrow—a Belfast beauty named Cathy Ryan. . . . Margaret Truman isn't letting her vocal pipes grow rusty. Although she's been making big money as a concert and video diva, she still trots to a studio on W. 57th street for frequent singing lessons.

Huntington Hartford's new flicker, "Face to Face" (which stars his wife, Marjorie Steele) has started something new in movie theater circles. It features two different plots and casts, and exhibitors out of town have asked for, and received, permission to cut it in half and show each half separately. . . . Don't kid her about it, but the bookkeeper at the Fireside Inn is named Bea Bapp.

Two of the cutest girls in a hit musical had a run-in with the law the other morning. They were bawling after too many nightcaps. . . . An album of piano tunes played by a 5-year-old girl is being waxed by the B.B.S. disc company. But the child won't be billed on the records—her parents insist on her remaining anonymous and unspooled.

HAVE A RUMOR straight from a Washington cocktail party: Charles Lindbergh to be offered Ambassador O'Dwyer's job in Mexico when the Repubs take over. . . . Billy Conn won't accept a role in the movie biography of Joe Louis. He's too far out of condition—and too rich. But Primo Carnera, now a wrestler, would like a spot in the flicker.

The new TV crooner who comes on as "Valentino" (and pulls plenty of scented mail at the network) is legally Athos Barrington Sharma. He's Hindu-Italian. . . . Prospective opponents of District Attorney Hogan for Mayor of New York will horrify the taxpayers by asking him to reveal exactly how much the vice investigation and the "hospitality" provided for its witnesses has cost the city. The wages of sin may be high, but the price of finding out about it is even higher!

THE WORRY CLINIC
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

NORMA K., 31, is the mother of two youngsters. "Dr. Crane, I have read your Case Records about other wives whose husbands became infatuated with stenographers," she began tearfully, "but I never dreamed it would ever happen to me."

"If it ever were to happen, I had always said I would immediately get a divorce, or else do a little more running around than my husband had done."

"But now that the tragedy has struck my home, the latter course of action seems utterly ridiculous to me. That would just be hurting everybody, including myself and my children."

"My husband is a home-loving man, aged 32. My suggestion of breaking up our marriage is driving him almost crazy. He is begging forgiveness, and promises never to falter again."

"As much as I would like to forgive him, and know it would be the Christian thing to do, I just cannot forgive or forget."

"Dr. Crane, do you think there is any hope for our marriage? We've been together for 6 years."

IT IS A terrible shock to an idealist of any type when the ideal suddenly is shattered.

Thus, a child who has ardently believed in Santa Claus, may feel devastated with grief and despair if some other youngster rudely informs him to the contrary.

Likewise, when an idealist in marriage, whether it be husband or wife, finds that the other mate has been unfaithful, the shock is very severe. Cynicism often is the result, for a cynic is simply a person who once was an idealist, but whose faith has been shattered by disillusionment.

The cynic, however, is not logical or scientific, for he thereupon transfers his disbelief to other women besides the one who double crossed him.

NORMA IS A cultured, religious woman, so she should remember that Christ didn't quit believing in Peter just because that impetuous Apostle thrice denied him.

Jesus knew that fundamentally Peter was probably the most devoted and loyal follower among the 12 Apostles. But momentary emotional stimuli and mob psychology caused Peter to deviate temporarily.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 26—The company headed by Doug Fairbanks Jr., will release "The Sinner," which Hildegard Neff starred in overseas last year. What's more, outfit will try to show it in the USA complete with that nude scene of Hildy swimming. The same scene that caused a furore in England and was cut out by the censors. Betcha it meets the same fate here. . . . Told you Steve Crane was taking over the Beverly Hills Tropics, a once-popular dining place here. He "moved in" today, then leaped to Hawaii to bring back two Honolulu acts as barmaids at his boite. . . . Paulette Goddard, due in the Hollywoods as we write this, may do another picture before returning to Europe after all. Deal is already on for her to star as the moll with THE MOST, in a gangster film, "The Jagged Edge" to be produced independently by Ed Levin. . . . Russ Severin, new heart-throb of Vera Ellen's starts singing tonight at the Cafe Gala. Marks the start of his career in these parts.

Betty Hutton

BETTY HUTTON returns here today. She expects to do her act at the Los Angeles Philharmonic, if booking dates can be arranged. . . . John Russell, who stars in John Ford's "The Sun Shines Bright" has signed a two-year contract at Republic. . . . For the first time in years, Eddie Bracken will soon be back on the Metro lot co-starring with Mickey Rooney in "A Slight Case of Larceny." Eddie replaces Carleton Carpenter. Bracken's last job at this studio was with Judy Garland in "Summer Stock." . . . What's NUDE? Well it's Linda Christian again. As though her front-paged semi-nude statue plus the mural in her home, which TV Power had done of Linda in similar undress weren't enough, Mrs. Power now owns a semi-nude portrait of herself by famed artist, Ernst Van Leydon.

LAURENCE HARVEY, leading man for Katie Hepburn in "Miss Hargreaves" is in Hollywood, being lionized. British-lionized—if you'll pardon the pun, because England is where this handsome young actor hails from. While here, he'll be tested for one of the leads for MGM's "Knights of the Round Table." But first he has to hie abroad again to play the husband of Jennifer Jones in "Beat the Devil." Humphrey Bogart stars in this one which gets under way in January. . . . ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Out for Thanksgiving... Christmas Meal Abroad...

★ HAPPY HOLIDAY—Oliver C. Conger, the Pottstown insurance tycoon and banker, may be looking forward to a happy Thanksgiving holiday today. He's able to be home after a stay in the Pottstown hospital for a stomach condition. . . . Benjamin F. Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Powell, Pottstown RD 1, has been promoted to airman, first class, at Williams Air Force base, Chandler, Arizona. He and his wife, the former Wanda Lee Peters, are living in Chandler. . . . Edward W. McClintock, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. McClintock, 722 North Hanover street, has been promoted to private, first class with his Third Infantry division in Korea.

CHRISTMAS DINNER—Here's a fine offer for a Pottstown area family who has a loved one with the armed services in Germany. Mrs. Anna Schirahman, 427 Cherry street, has a cousin in Augsburg, Germany, who would like to give any Pottstown soldier stationed near her home a Christmas dinner. Mrs. Schirahman said her cousin has no children at home. She said the middle-aged couple invites any Pottstown service man to spend the Christmas holiday with them. Arrangements to meet the German couple can be made with Mrs. Schirahman. There's little time between now and Christmas and mails are slow, so make the arrangements hurriedly!

★ QUITE A JOB—Pvt. Richard D. Neiman, whose wife, Winifred, lives in Bechtelsville, recently took part in a unique Army engineer construction project in Korea. A member of the 1st Corps 14th Engineer Combat Battalion, he helped build the 934-foot Spoonbill Bridge across the turbulent Imjin river, the only bridge of its kind across the stream. Built on fixed piers instead of the usual floating pontoons, the widened steel trestle bridge now can handle more traffic and heavier loads because of the change. Greater protection also is offered against high water on the frequently-flooded river. Neiman entered the Army in April of this year. He is the son of Jesse Neiman, West Lawn, former Pottstown policeman, and Mrs. Dorothy Neiman, Boyertown.

MISSING—Cheery voice of the Pottstown hospital's telephone switchboard is missing for a little while. That's because Mrs. Nancy Haas, 711 North Charlotte street, has been admitted to the hospital for a minor operation. . . . William W. Riegner Jr., 18, Douglassville RD 2, has been trapping for several years catching "possums, weasel, raccoons and skunks but he had never seen a porcupine in the area until yesterday. The young trapper found a 30-pound, black specimen on Monocacy road, Douglassville. He said it looked as though the animal had been hit by an automobile.

★ GOT TO KNOW HER—Many a Pottsonian got acquainted with the new treasurer of the US-to-be almost a month ago. Then Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, of Utah, spoke to 2000 Republicans at a county rally in Sunnybrook ballroom. She pinch-hit for Senator Knowland, of California, who couldn't make the dinner on Oct. 30. Tuesday she was named by President-elect Eisenhower to be the new custodian of the treasury. She made an agreeable impression here, impressed local listeners with her ability. A housewife, Mrs. Priest said she thought it was a fine thing for a woman to have a voice in the nation's "financial housekeeping." Mrs. Priest was vice chairman of the Republican National committee when she appeared here.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MUCH ATTENTION these days is being given to psychosomatic diseases. These are body disorders caused by extreme mental or emotional disturbance. In some cases, severe emotional stress has brought on physical ills that are truly amazing, such as blisters and hemorrhages. It is now thought that an inner car disorder called Meniere's disease may also be due to psychosomatic causes.

Sudden severe seizures of dizziness, nausea, and vomiting attack the person with Meniere's disease. He grows pale, and in severe cases appears as if drunk. Between attacks, he has severe ringing in the ears, and may develop a deafness, though this is usually not permanent. Often, mild attacks may occur in which there is only some dizziness with no other symptoms.

This disease occurs in both men and women, more often between the ages of 30 and 60 years. Attacks may strike suddenly at any time of the day or night. There is no apparent cause for them, and they are not at all related to any vigorous activity the person might engage in. Between attacks, he is usually in good health.

With the onset of an attack, the person thinks all the objects in the room are revolving around him, while he has his eyes open. With his eyes closed, he feels as if he is revolving around the room. Sometimes this disturbance is so severe that the person cannot remain erect, and must brace himself against something to keep from falling.

One of the most frequently advanced explanations of this disease, and the most plausible one, is that it is due to a blood vessel disorder. Changes of the blood supply to the inner ear are thought to be responsible. Emotional causes may actually bring about these blood changes, it is further believed.

Philadelphia Council Passes Two Contested Tax Increase Bills

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26 (AP) — Philadelphia City Council tonight passed a holly-contested three-mill mercantile tax and also a one-percent real estate tax. Both measures, designed to meet city budget needs for the coming year, were soundly criticized during a daylong debate.

The vote on the mercantile tax, opposed by a number of business associations, was 12 to 5 while the real estate levy was adopted by a vote of 11 to 6.

The meeting started shortly after 2 p. m. But the party majority defeated a series of proposed budget slashes with the voting generally about 11 to six. Three Democrats and three Republicans are opposing Mayor Joseph Clark's program.

But passage of the controversial business tax appeared so sure that by late afternoon many of the spectators left the chambers.

In addition to the mercantile tax, which has brought the opposition of the United Business Men's association and the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelphia, the council has before it a proposed one percent real estate transfer tax. The real estate tax, too, seemed headed for approval.

AMONG SUPPORTERS of the two levels are leaders of the CIO. Two leading opponents of the three mill mercantile tax said they would test any such legislation in the courts. They were Maurice W. Kail, president of the Business Men's association, and Arthur E. Dennis, counsel for the Philadelphia meat and allied food industry.

Kail said, "We'll not take this thing lying down and we intend, at once, to defeat this vicious legislation in the courts."

At the testimonial dinner, Beacraft was given three major gifts:

Attorney John H. Longaker, club solicitor, who was master of ceremonies, presented him with a US Government bond on behalf of the club.

R. B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor federation, gave him luggage on behalf of the federation.

Edward L. Pennypacker, insurance representative of the Pottstown Automobile Insurance agency, presented him with a complete set of fishing tackle on behalf of the agency, which is an affiliate of the club, and of which Beacraft also is manager.

IN ADDITION to Maxwell, the featured speaker was Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, Evansburg.

William F. Lamb Sr., veteran club president, presided at a brief business session. The Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, pastor of New Hanover Lutheran church, gave the invocation.

The ruddy-faced, silver-haired Hughes was born in Chester county, near Birchrunville. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Hughes, still is living, in West Chester. His father was the late Charles W. Hughes.

After attending Chester county schools, Hughes worked on the family farm for a short time, then went to work for Buckwalter Stove company, Royersford. He was employed by the company for 22 years.

WHEN THE Stowe company went out of business, Hughes joined the auto club and has been with them since. He was elected assistant to Beacraft in January, 1932.

Most of Hughes' work has been out of the office, visiting patrols and members in all sections of Upper Montgomery county.

As is the case with the job he is stepping into, his present job puts him on call 24 hours a day. "I enjoy the work, enjoy serving the members," he said. He added, "Leisure time for me is when nobody calls me at home."

Hughes, who has a first-name acquaintanceship with thousands of Pottstown area residents, is known for his ready laugh and ready replies of a humorous nature.

His wife of the past 44 years is Margaret (Kring) Hughes. They have a daughter, Christine, wife of Samuel Eagle, Phoenixville, and a granddaughter.

A member of Spring City Reformed church and secretary of its consistory for 15 years, Hughes also is a member of these fraternal organizations:

Birth Control Advocate Draws A-Bomb Contrast

BOMBAY, India, Nov. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Sanger of Tucson, Ariz., prominent American advocate of birth control, said today it is a shame that mankind can produce atom bombs but is unable to improve on contraceptives.

"We should really be ashamed of the situation," she told the International Planned Parenthood conference. "We produce atom bombs and cannot improve upon modern contraceptives, first used in Holland decades ago."

Mrs. Sanger said she regarded the conference here as the culmination of her life's work. "I am proud of the popularization of family planning ideas in India," she added.

UN Gets Envoy's Pistol Till He Sails for Home

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—UN sources said today Poland's Foreign Minister Stanislaw Skrzesezewski has turned his pistol over to the United Nations for safekeeping and expects to get it back when he sails for home.

Skrzesezewski left the gun under his pillow in a New York hotel room last month. A maid discovered it and a furore was created in the diplomatic set when the hotel reported it to authorities.

Heavy Snow, Gales, Ice Grip Most of Britain

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Heavy snow, gales and ice gripped most of Britain tonight.

In Wales, fallen trees blocked express trains and a two-mile traffic snarl piled up outside the big industrial city of Cardiff when the main highway was blocked by a stalled truck. Eight inches of snow fell in some mountain districts.

More than 100 people were treated for minor injuries from slipping on icy sidewalks in Newcastle.

RKO Wins Court Sanction For Not Naming Writer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26 (AP)—RKO studio today won legal sanction of its refusal to give writer Paul Jarrico screen credit for a movie after he had balked at saying whether he was a Communist.

Superior Judge Orlando Rhodes' ruling, ending a seven-day trial, also denied Jarrico $100,000 damages.

The $2000 a week scenarist was fired March 23, 1951, when industrialist Howard Hughes headed the studio. After refusing to answer the Communist question before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

RKO denied him credit on the film "The Las Vegas Story" on the ground his action violated the morals clause of his contract. The studio contended Jarrico incurred such hostile public reaction that his name on the movie would have rendered it valueless.

Appeal for Hearing Here on Assessment Rejected by Board

Efforts put forth yesterday to have Montgomery county board of assessment and revision of taxes come to Royersford to hear appeals of property owners failed.

During the public meeting of property owners in the high school Tuesday night, various taxpayers urged that the county board come here on appeal day, Dec. 3, to accommodate taxpayers dissatisfied with their new rate of assessment and who would not be able to go to Norristown on appeal day.

Yesterday Benjamin Fry, local assessor and borough secretary, made such request to the county board, but was told it would not be possible for the county board to leave the courthouse.

Any individuals wishing to appeal their assessment rate will have to go to Norristown or leave the rate stand.

Appeals will be heard on Dec. 3 at Norristown from 10 a. m., to 3 p. m.

Lazy Burglar Arrested After 'Safe' Taxi Ride

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 26 (AP)—An apparently lazy bootlegger who stole a barber shop safe and called a taxi to haul it away has been given three years in prison.

Thanksgiving Day Dinner to Come From Freezer Due to Tonsillectomies

Not an oven but a freezer will produce Thanksgiving dinner today at the James Duggers' trailer in Sanatoga Trailer park, Thomas Jefferson highway.

Two of the three Duggers — James, 30, and James Jr., 6, were admitted yesterday to Memorial hospital for tonsillectomies.

While Mrs. Dugger expects her husband and son home today, she doesn't plan to feed them turkey. "I'm going to have a gallon of vanilla ice cream—and that's all," she laughed.

For her own dinner, she added, she may add some scrambled eggs.

BOTH DUGGERS have been planning to scrap their tonsils for some time, she said, and picked Thanksgiving Eve because it was a school and work holiday.

Mrs. Dugger is glad they elected to undergo surgery as a team. "As patients they're both problems at any time," she pointed out, "and I'm much happier to get this over with all at once."

Dugger, a sprinkler fitter, and his family move around the country on contracting jobs with his employer, the Rockwood Sprinkler company. They arrived in Pottstown over a month ago, and will remain a year, while the firm completes a project at Firestone.

They've been on the road for six years, and for trailer living, Mrs. Dugger says, "We've had an easy time of it — not a single accident."

Last Thanksgiving, she recalled, she cooked a turkey dinner in Middletown, N. Y., and she has no idea where she'll be on "Turkey Day," 1933.

The Duggers, who have been stationed all over the east coast, are natives of Elizabethton, Tenn.

Chester County Man Asks to Be Jailed as Protest to Treatment

A Chester county man yesterday insisted he be sent to West Chester prison because he objected to tactics of a South Coventry township police officer and justice of the peace.

Henry N. Waltz, West Goshen township farmer and contractor, was found guilty by Judge Ernest Harvey in West Chester of failure to have his owner's card with him on the night of Aug. 28, demanded he be sent to prison.

He was arrested for making a bad pass while on his way to a North Coventry township grange meeting. He was told to go to his home and return with his owners card.

He testified when he returned with the card the officer was not at the appointed place.

WHEN WALTZ informed Justice of the Peace William S. Symons, South Coventry, he was waiving the hearing on the bad pass charge and taking the case to court, Symons sent a second summons for failure to have his owner's card.

The second summons was sent out 12 days after the arrest. By law an officer has 15 days to complete charges.

Waltz's counsel, Attorney Fred T. Cadmus 3d, East Nantmeal, paid the fine and costs of $17.85, but the West Goshen farmer went down to the jail and asked to be locked up for the two-day sentence imposed by the court as an alternative to the fine and costs. He was not admitted to the prison.

Halbox With Fortune In Jewels Returned

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—A hatbox containing a fortune in jewels, variously estimated as worth from $34,000 to $100,000 was returned today to Mrs. Gordon Guiberson, of La Jolla.

Mrs. Guiberson, wife of a wealthy race-horse owner, said she lost the hatbox while running to catch a plane at Phoenix Tuesday morning, en route to San Diego.

Mrs. Leonard W. Loeser, of Buffalo, N. Y., also was en route to San Diego. She saw the hatbox and picked it up, thinking someone who had boarded the plane ahead of her had dropped it, and she could return it.

No one on the plane claimed it. Mrs. Guiberson had left on an earlier flight, so Mrs. Loeser checked for identification. She found none, but under the hats was a case containing a large amount of what she thought was costume jewelry.

She said she had intended to trace the owner through the military firm whose name appeared on the box. Then yesterday a friend here who was once a jeweler ascertained the baubles were real—rubies, emeralds, diamonds, set in rings and bracelets.

Mrs. Loeser notified the FBI and the Guibersons reclaimed the jewelry today. Guiberson handed Mrs. Loeser what she described as "a nice check."

Memorial Hospital to Add Wing

dor.

The wing will be built perpendicularly to the present hospital building, extending from the rear of the main entrance back to the power plant. Its architecture will conform to the main structure, Pollick said.

THE SOUTH WING, as the new addition will be named, will house eight two-bed rooms, with wash-stands, dressing tables and closets built into the walls, which is something new in hospital design.

Plans also call for an isolation suite of two one-bed rooms complete with their own toilet facilities and connecting sterilizing room. This, the administrator explained, will alleviate the "especially overcrowded" one-room present isolation suite where patients are kept for observation and further transfer to hospitals handling contagious diseases.

There also will be a shower room built in the new wing, which will be the first such facility in the hospital, and a nursing station to accommodate a full nursing unit. The basement house the purchasing department and be used for storage of supplies.

Pollick explained the reason the new structure is limited to one floor is due to the present laundry, kitchen, and power plant facilities which would also have to be expanded if a larger unit were planned.

"But we're building it with the future in mind," he added,

"it will be capable of supporting two additional floors and will include an elevator shaft in event someday we decide to expand upward."

Although the new unit will have eight two-bed rooms, only a total of 12 beds will be added to the present capacity of 72 beds and 20 bassinets.

"THE REASON for this," Pollick explained, "is by increasing the number of semi-private rooms, some existing two-bed rooms in the main building will be converted to private rooms of which we now have only three for medical and surgical patients."

The building of the new wing will be the first expansion program undertaken by the hospital since 1946-1948, at which time $400,000 was spent to bring it to its present status.

Memorial hospital was founded in 1914, through the donation of a home and grounds by the late Dr. William H. Eck and with funds contributed by an early woman physician practicing in this area.

In 1920, its 16 beds were increased to 25 beds as a result of a campaign which raised $25,000, and again in 1922, when another $50,000 was raised, the hospital's capacity was expanded to 63 beds. Then came 1946, and the two-year project which was the last major work done at the hospital.

staffed by part-time, inadequate personnel."

The State physician disclosed that Lower Merion township and Abington township are the only two in the entire county with full-time health personnel, while Pottstown's staff "may be considered almost full-time."

The reference to Pottstown was directed at Benjamin Steele, borough health officer who doubles as plumbing inspector at an annual salary of $4200. Health service for 1951, Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden, revealed yesterday cost $4920.

DR. TEAGUE further pointed out that whatever Montgomery county chose to spend for the health program, this sum would be matched by the state, provided the amount did not exceed $72,000 annually "which is what the State is spending on the county now."

He added, however, that the county would not have to start with an extensive program calling for full support of allocated funds, but could start with a basic health unit.

This unit, Dr. Teague said, would include a full time medical director, who would have to be a physician who had given up his practice to take the position at a salary up to $11,000 yearly.

A sanitary engineer at $6000 annually, visiting nurses, a director of nurses, a health educator and a clerk. Under the program the county would also appoint a health board of two physicians and three laymen.

"YOUR STARTING budget should be about $30,000 to $40,000 a year, and then increase as you go along."

The meeting was closed with Hillegas stating that all the figures submitted by Dr. Teague would be studied carefully before any action on the issue was taken.

This was the second meeting of county commissioners and State health authorities on the subject. The first meeting took place the past January at which time the legislation making the new program possible was discussed without actual reference to costs.

Present at yesterday's meeting were representatives of the Visiting Nurse organization; the Montgomery County Tuberculosis society; National Polio foundation; Montgomery county Health and Welfare council; League of Women Voters; Cancer society, and Dr. Ivan Hess, of Limerick.

Air Force Crowns Its 24th Jet Ace

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 27 (AP)—The US Air Force crowned its 24th jet ace today—a Texan who went in to rescue a buddy and shot down his fifth MIG with gunsights that weren't working.

Sabre jets fought Communist MIGs over northwest Korea yesterday, but pilots made no victory claims. There was little action on the front.

The 24th ace made his kill the past Saturday. The Fifth Air Force did not announce it until Thanksgiving Eve, after studying film from his gun camera.

The new ace is Lt. Cecil G. Foster, 27, of San Antonio, Tex. He told about it today.

immediately because of traffic congestion. She stopped near High and Penn streets, she said, but did not see the boy at Hanover street.

She told police another motorist said Bramm rose from the street after being hit, laughed and walked away. Bramm did not require hospital treatment.

Tony Adamski, 6, of Apt. 8-A Road D, Hilldale, was treated for a scratched right elbow at Memorial hospital and discharged after he ran into the side of a southbound auto on South Hanover street at 3:45 o'clock.

John W. Brunst, 76 West Fifth street, the driver of the car, told Patrolman William H. Myers, he saw the boy dash off the west sidewalk and he stopped his car to avoid hitting him.

The boy could not stop himself when he saw the car and slammed into its right side.

IN THE third accident, at 6:17 o'clock, at High and Adams streets, one auto crashed into the rear of a second when the latter swerved to the right to turn south onto Adams.

Mrs. Mary M. Wanner, 36 West Eighth street, told Patrolman John Kirlin she was driving east on High street in the inside traffic lane and moving slowly toward the outside lane to make the turn.

The traffic light changed to red, she said, and she stopped, her car straddling both lanes, and was struck by an auto driven by Arthur Weitzenkorn, 15 Winding road.

Weitzenkorn told Kirlin he was in the outer lane and intended passing Mrs. Wanner on the right when she started the turn.

He said he braked his car suddenly, but could not stop in time.

The right rear fender of Mrs. Wanner's auto and the left front fender and headlight of Weitzenkorn's car were damaged.

SEAWELL SAID, "We've had to buy only one or two turkeys in the more than six years I've been here."

He added that Levegood and Clover Leaf dairies, Schulz Baking company and Laurel Locks farms are just four of many contributors.

Two of the hospital's trustees, George M. Longaker and Lawrence E. Orgill, are perennial turkey donors, he said.

Dan Unger, Boyertown fruit grower, sends bushels of apples for every Thanksgiving dinner, and other firms send fruit and candy, too, Seawell said.

He said many residents also send turkeys, but did not want to name them for fear of missing some.

"WE TRY to make the holiday as festive as we can," he said.

Part of the arrangements for the approximately 100 patients at Pottstown hospital who will be served tomorrow, include decorated dinner trays.

Seawell said Girl Scouts and members of the Deb-Aides and Teen-Aides at the hospital have made paper favors to be placed on each patient's tray.

Dinner will be served at about 11:30 a. m., he said.

POLLOCK SAID his institution receives turkeys from almost the same sources as does Pottstown hospital.

Mrs. Catherine R. Fertig, hospital dietitian at Memorial hospital, said about 40 patients will be served dinner at 11:15 o'clock this morning.

She said "Many of the patients hurried to get out of the hospital so they could be home for the holiday."

The dietitian said "We try to do what we can to make things as much like they would be at the patients' homes."

BOTH HOSPITALS will serve standard Thanksgiving fare, but Memorial's patients will have home-made pumpkin pie.

Mrs. Fertig said Mrs. Edna Rubrecht, day cook, is baking about 20 pies "just in case anybody wants seconds."

Book Week Is Marked; Lending Library Begun

Since we have received many new books, and since this is Book Week, we have started our lending library. Dick Potts is our librarian and all the books must be returned to him to be put on the shelves.

Books may be kept from Friday until Wednesday.

With Thanksgiving season here, we have made a list of things for which we are thankful. Every child added one thing. We will learn to read the list.

Fourth Grade Takes Part In Assembly Program

By JAMES HARBARGER

The Fourth grade participated in the assembly program on Friday morning. They sang, "Rain," "Our Song of Thanksgiving," and "Thanksgiving in Great-Grandma's Day."

Their poems were "A Plan That Worked" by Sandra Gaugler, "The Trials of the Table" by Mary Dolas. Janet Grow recited "The Best Way."

Teacher Plays Auto Harp For Second Grade Pupils

The second grade teacher, Mrs. Richardson, played the auto harp for the boys and girls. The children sang "America," "Over the River and Thru the Wood," and "Home on the Range."

David Koval had his seventh birthday on November 18.

Bobby Hartenstein brought a machine which made designs. He can make a design in 4 minutes.

First Graders Making Indian, Pilgrim Scene

Mrs. Arndt's First grade is making an Indian and Pilgrim scene in a large flat packing box. The scene contains mountains, sky, a lake, Indians, Pilgrims, a log cabin, the Mayflower and a few wild animals.

We have a large doll house in the front of our room. Sandra Fry gave it to us. We are going to share it with the First grade and the kindergarten.

To Fight Return

Harold J. Adonis, former executive clerk to New Jersey's Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, said in Amsterdam, Holland, that he would fight extradition to the United States, where he is under indictment on bribery charges. Adonis was indicted by a Bergen County, N.J., grand jury on a charge of accepting $228,000 in bribes to cripple a gambling investigation.

Parolee Weds Girl From Pottstown as Waiver Is Granted

Fred A. Spiezio, 20, of Douglassville, in the county prison since the past Friday night after his apprehension as a parole violator, and Doris L. Sizer, 16, of 225 West High street, Pottstown, who had been at Montgomery Hall since the same time, were wed in Montgomery Hall, Jeffersonville, by Magistrate Charles Gorman, Norristown.

The youth and the girl returned from a trip to Kentucky the past week. Because Spiezio, on probation as a result of a theft accusation, was ruled a violator for having left the jurisdiction without notifying his parole supervisors, he was picked up.

Juvenile Court authorities and the parents of the youthful couple conferred with them and learned their intentions to marry.

A waiver on the three-day waiting period was granted and the license issued immediately.

The left rear fender of an auto driven by a South street man was damaged when struck by a car on Evans street near King street at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Howard C. Seasholtz, 1082 South street, told Patrolman Michael Shanta he was pulling out of a parking space and his car was struck by an auto driven by Rodney E. Youse, Pottstown RD 2.

Youse told Shanta he saw Seasholtz leaving the parking space as he was driving north, but thought he would stop in time to avoid an accident.

Minute Men Hear How Local Revenue Is Received, Spent

Sixteen members of the Pottstown Minute Men heard Horace B. Gulden borough manager, specify how the borough's $500,000 revenue for 1951 was received and spent, at the organization's monthly luncheon meeting yesterday.

Gulden revealed that 65 percent of Pottstown's cash receipts came from real estate and occupation taxes; five percent from license fees; five percent from amusement taxes; six percent as a result of deed transfers; 13 percent from parking meters and fines, and the remaining six percent from miscellaneous sources.

In speaking of expenditures, he disclosed that 24 percent of the 1951 revenue was spent on highway work; 20 percent for borough police protection; 17 percent covered debt service; 17 percent for health service which included garbage removal; 8 percent for administration and building operations; 8 percent for fire fighting, and 6 percent for miscellaneous expenses which include recreation.

Following a report given by John P. Stamm, treasurer, on all receipts and disbursements for the air show held the past Summer, the organization voted the remaining $450 be turned over the local Mercantile bureau.

A. C. Seawell, president, said this money was to be used by the latter group "as they saw fit" since it was given by the Minute Men to the bureau to make up part of the approximate $1100 deficit financing of biennial celebrations held this year.

Those taking the side of Greece included: Diana Butler and Virginia Platchek. Those on the opposing side included Ronald Xander Sheeder and Wilson Baker.

Student judges were Janice Sweetwood, Raymond Smith and Nina De Angeli.

THE PUPILS sent letters of invitation to parents and friends to visit the class debate.

Those parents present included: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Detwiler, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sheeder, Mrs. Franklin Sheeder, Mrs. Foster Dennis, Mrs. Donald Baker, Mrs. Paul K. Butler, Mrs. John Wilcox, Mrs. Walter J. Smith, Mrs. Stanley Hipser, Howard B. Keyser, Louis A. Krug and Mrs. Isabel Grater.

Resemblance Is Striking, School Finds After Visit

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 26 (AP) — A visiting parent who came to a private school near here one week-end to find out why his son seemed to be doing everything wrong, had the teachers wondering about the father before he left.

The teacher tried to be helpful in talks with the father. They also helped him find a locksmith when he locked his car and left the keys inside on Saturday night. Next day after he had left, one of the teachers drove out to help when the father ran out of gas.

Then later in the day another teacher found the suit of clothes the father had left behind. It was packed and shipped to father.

Louisville's 'Finest' Are Not in Such 'Fine' Shape

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 26 (AP) — A physical checkup of policemen here recently disclosed that 14 percent were physically incapable of performing satisfactory police duty, Safety Director James E. Thornberry reports.

Of the 438 policemen examined, 184 were overweight, 116 had unsatisfactory blood pressure, 87 had below-par vision, 25 were wholly or partially color blind and 79 had defective hearing.

Thornberry blamed low police pensions for the high percentage of unqualified officers. Of the 62 men termed unsatisfactory, 46 had already reached the age of 51, which is in the retirement bracket.

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By FRED SELBY and LARRY DAVIS

EDWARD L. PENNYPACKER, 952 Queen street, is one of those rare individuals who has been able to make himself at home on such widely-different terrain as a football field and a gift shop.

Pennypacker, who now is insurance representative of Pottstown Automobile club, conceals under a polite, quiet-spoken exterior a record as a bruising tackle on the football team of Pottstown Senior High school, from which he was graduated in 1932.

Edward L. Pennypacker

Captain of the football team in his Senior year, he was a three-letter athlete, being on the basketball team and throwing the shot and hurling the javelin for the track team. Pennypacker now confines his athletics to fishing, but he still weighs little more than he did in high school, 170 pounds.

After high school, he learned the machinist trade in Birdsboro Steel Foundry and Machine company's plant, where he was employed for six years; and was an inspector for the Navy and then for E. G. Budd company in Philadelphia.

During World War II, he spent two years in the Air Force, studying maintenance and inspection.

"I spent almost all that time training," he said. "They must have thought I was a dumb bunny, the way they kept sending me to school."

He was at Air Force bases in Biloxi, Miss.; Denver, Colo.; Long Beach, Calif.; Lake Charles, La., and Chanute field, Ill.

Feeling somewhat over-trained, Pennypacker could whip up little enthusiasm for a civilian aviation career when the war ended, so he took a job with American Casualty company's office in Reading, studying casualty insurance underwriting.

Three years ago, he joined the automobile club, working both for the club and its affiliate, Pottstown Automobile Insurance agency. He said he thought the outstanding feature of his job was the stress it puts on safety problems.

He said his major leisuretime activity is helping his wife, the former Marian A. Zollers, a Pottstown girl, with her gift shop, The Little Shop, 77 South Keim street.

Pennypacker, whose nickname has been "Penny" as far back as he can remember, is a member of Trinity Reformed church; Pottstown Lodge 814, BPOE, and Pottstown Lions club.

His parents are dead. He was raised by an aunt, Mrs. William Young, 538 Chestnut street. He said with a typically quiet smile, "She deserves all the credit, if any credit is due."

Mr. and Mrs. Pennypacker have an 8-year-old daughter, Patricia.

POTTSTOWN Optometrist Dr. Elmer S. Friedberg came out of Camden, N. J. high school right at the depth of the great depression. But that economic disaster had nothing to do with his ultimate aim in the professional world.

Rather, it was a neighbor in Camden's Parkside area that kept Dr. Friedberg from becoming a dentist. He might have followed in the footsteps of other members of his family had it not been for the enthusiasm of an older boy attending optometric school in Philadelphia.

The friend talked optometry to such a degree whenever the two got together, made the field sound so fascinating, that Dr. Friedberg abandoned his thoughts of a career in dentistry and turned instead to the science of examining the human eye.

Some years later, at the close of World War II, a chance meeting in Philadelphia brought him to this community where he has plunged into the civic life of the borough. Among other activities he is Blood Service chairman for the Northern Branch of the Red Cross' Southeastern Pennsylvania chapter and is co-chairman of the Sight Conservation committee of the Pottstown Lions club.

Dr. Friedberg was born in Camden the son of Edward and Anna (Caplan) Friedberg on March 24, 1917. His father is a retired real estate broker who spent 30 years in his profession. There is one brother, Joseph.

At Camden High school where he took the academic course, Dr. Friedberg became interested in amateur dramatics and—as he describes it—was an athlete of sorts.

Relating his sports career in typical whimsical fashion, he notes with mock seriousness that he played a line position on the school's fourth football team. "I got into one game for two minutes when Camden led a hundred and something to nothing. It nearly killed me!" And as a varsity tennis player he "got a little letter."

Graduated in 1933, Dr. Friedberg entered the Pennsylvania State College of Optometry from which he received his degree in 1938.

While studying "across the river" he continued his interest in community dramatic presentations. Upon earning his shingle, he opened a practice at Pennsgrove until his enlistment in the Army Air corps in July 1941.

He served a total of four and one half years in service as an officer and received training in navigation, gunnery and armament. On the side, so to speak, he made use of his professional training by assisting the flight surgeon in the vision problems of the personnel in his organization. He flew 18 missions with the 410th Bomb group out of England and France for which he received the Air Medal and the Presidential Unit Citation.

Dr. Friedberg still is active in Air Force circles and as a reserve major is commanding officer of Pottstown Flight "C," of the 9545th Volunteer Air Reserve Training squadron.

Out of the Air Force in December 1945, he happened to meet Dr. F. F. Meyers, Pottstown optometrist, when both were visiting at the American Optical company. Ten months later, he had reason to remember the meeting when Dr. Meyers invited him here as an associate.

Dr. Friedberg is vice president of the Berks county Optometric society and is past vice president of the Pennsylvania Optometric association. He is a member of Stichter Lodge F and AM, the Rajah Shrine, Reading Consistory, the Air Force association and the Pottstown Aircraft Owners and Pilots' association. He is licensed to pilot commercial single and multi-engine land airplanes.

He was married Aug. 4, 1951, to the former Suzanne Marella, of Philadelphia, whom he had met through an acquaintance. The couple resides at 986 North Hale street.

Dr. Friedberg is five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, has gray eyes and brown wavy hair.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

The shape of the roof on this Colonial-style home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne N. Kehl, 41 West Sixth street, enables them to have the advantages both of a sloping roof and a big second floor and sizeable storage attic. Downstairs is an entrance hallway behind the front door; a living room that runs all the way across the rest of the front; a dining room and kitchen. With the exception of the kitchen, the downstairs rooms have chestnut woodwork. Upstairs are three bedrooms and bath. The bedrooms are on the same level. That low second-floor window is for the stairs landing, one step below the second floor itself. Other features of the house include corner cupboards in the dining room and a big clothes closet between living room and kitchen. The house was built in 1940 by Oscar C. Arndt, Pottstown contractor. Kehl (pronounced Kahl) is a designing and sales engineer for McCarter Iron Works, Norristown.

Housing Group Meeting Postponed Over Holiday

Montgomery County Housing authority, which was scheduled to meet today, will not meet until early next month.

This was reported yesterday by Edmund J. Koser, executive secretary. He said the meeting was postponed because of Thanksgiving and because the chairman, Felix Perry, Chestnut Hill, is in Lancaster hospital, Philadelphia.

Perry underwent a major operation there the past week.

The liners Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth were built partly of scrap from the German battle fleet sunk in Scapa Flow after World War I.

Lumber Industry Bogs Down in Philippines

MANILA, Nov. 26—The once-thriving Philippines lumber industry has fallen upon hard times, and it wants Government help.

A recent survey shows sales have fallen off to Japan and the U.S., the two major customers. The decline is attributed to the Korean war and the fact that Japan now has repaired much of its war damage.

Renato Arevalo, a Manila lumber company executive, says the lumber industry has been the Philippines' most steady dollar producer. He proposed that the Government adopt "a common-sense attitude regarding tax and other control measures."

Ruth Neiman and Arthur Summers Exchange Nuptial Vows at Evening Service

At a candlelit ceremony last night in Zion's Reformed church, Ruth Neiman, Pottstown, became the bride of Arthur Summers, Malvern.

Mrs. Heriman Neiman, 480 North

Charlotte street, is the mother of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Summers, 110 West Broad street.

The Rev. Howard Kosman, pastor, officiated at the single ring service, witnessed by close friends and the immediate family.

For her wedding, the bride wore a street-length gown of gold-colored wool jersey. Its high neckline was finished with a softly rolled collar, while its long sleeved bodice topped a gathered skirt.

Her forest green velvet hat matched her suede pumps and she wore a corsage of cymbidiums. Immediately after the ceremony, the bride and groom left for their honeymoon in Atlantic City.

After Dec. 1, they will be at home in the residence of the bride's parents, 460 North Charlotte street. The bride, a graduate of Pottstown High school, is an employee in The Mercury's circulation department.

J. Bishop and company, Malvern, are the groom's employers.

St. John's Club Models Display 60 Winter Outfits

St. John's models paraded through Winter and into Spring with a showing of over 60 styles Tuesday evening in the auditorium of St. John's Catholic church of the Greek Rite.

Casual clothes and grand ball gowns were displayed, as well as outfits for all occasions inbetween. The show was sponsored by the church's Ladies' club.

Alethea Houser was commentator for the review of 1953 fashions, and Mrs. John Shanta Jr. headed the arrangements committee.

Leading off in the first of the casual costumes, Jane Hanth wore a white sweater set with a grey skirt. Marie Artim matched a pair of sweaters to a pale grey skirt.

Another sweater set, topping a brown wool tweed skirt, was modeled by Frances Hanth, and Irene Corbett showed the dressier side of separates with a black velvet skirt and boucle blouse.

For fraternity house parties and after-game dances, Shirley Corbett nominated a blue boucle blouse worn with a skirt of iridescent taffeta.

Classic black and white was modeled by Ann Chintala, whose velvet skirt and boucle blouse were worn beneath a white knitted coat sweater.

Biggest fashion news of the season are the no-press fabrics, and Helen Dinnoenti appeared in an iron-allergic orlon pleated frock of grey.

Another classic style, in wool gabardine, was shown by Eve

Leck, and Elizabeth Galamba displayed a two-piece suit in grey tweed.

Dorothy Glanski wore grey menswear flannel, and Ann Gerhart chose a classic frock of aqua spun rayon.

Tailored outfits continued popular as Mary Stropko took to the stage wearing a brown dress, and Irene Kopche modeled a simply-lined gown of two-tone grey wool.

Red plaid and grey frost point was chosen by Barbara Groye, and Roz Zezenski showed off a two-piece white wool knitted suit for casual or dressy occasions.

Ann Stavrosky presented a coat dress in magnolia shade, and Nancy Whitco was ready for cocktails in a warm two-piece suit of red velvet. Helen Shanta chose white bengaline for her important suit, and Jeanette Pastalak appeared wearing a blue coat suit.

Jane Hanth trotted down-stage in a pink flannel, poodle-cloth dress. Marie Artim's magnolia white dress was cut in a halter style and had a matching bolero for the covered-up look.

A black cocktail gown with a buoyant balloon hemline worn by Frances Hanth gave way to the gowns of Shirley and Irene Corbett. Shirley's pink taffeta was cut with a scoop neckline; Irene's black frock scooped all the way to become strapless—but she carried a "mure jacket."

Black was a favorite with Elizabeth Galamba, too. Her gown featured a combination of ribbon lace and velvet. Another halter dress with a jacket appeared in a provoking black and white print worn by Helen Dinnoenti.

Unusual and brilliant colors were worn by Ann Chintala, who chose an iridescent royal blue, and Mary Stropko, in bittersweet crepe. Bronze iridescent matelasse in a two-piece combination was shown by Eve Leck.

Dorothy Glanski chose a soft beige wool and brown taffeta frock for her stage appearance. A rich blue velvet suit was Ann Gerhart's choice. Deep purple in a taffeta fitted gown was paraded by Barbara Groove.

Separates, a black wool jersey blouse and a white skirt, were Irene Kopche's contribution to the fashion line. Red embroidery was a vivid trim on Roz Zezenski's black taffeta dress.

Black velvet framed Ann Stavrosky's face when she walked in the limelight wearing a beige taffeta. Nancy Whitco's black ribbon lace had velvet trim, too.

Blue moire with black trim and cut with a scoop neckline was shown by Helen Shanta. Lace and sequins in blue were picked by Jeannette Pastalak.

A pink and black lace frock was modeled by Elizabeth Galamba; Mary Stropko wore a navy crepe styled with beads, pink trim and a jacket.

Helen Dinnoenti modeled a mauve brocade and tulle gown of floor length while Ann Chintala chose a ballerina length gown of black taffeta.

Jane Hanth appeared in another full length gown of shrimp tulle, and again a ballerina gown of pink velvet and tulle modeled by Marie Artim. Ann Gerhart wore an emerald green and antique gold gown; Frances Hanth, a pink yarn dyed taffeta with rhinestone trim. Irene Corbett modeled a white tulle gown with ballerina length pleated skirt; Shirley Corbett also wore a ballerina gown of red taffeta and tulle. Eve Leck chose a shrimp embroidered tulle, and Dorothy Glanski, a white tulle with gold trim.

Roz Zezenski modeled a floor length gown with a white tiered tulle skirt and gold sequins. Tulle again appeared in the emerald ballerina gown of Barbara Groove.

A cornflower blue taffeta was shown by Ann Stavrosky and a seaspray taffeta with gold embroidery by Nancy Whitco. Helen Shanta modeled a white and green full length gown and Jeanette Pastalak wore one of white with a sequin scroll.

Suggested for New Year's Eve by Ann Chintala was a pink and black lace frock with a bouffant, ballerina-length skirt. Helen Dinnoenti swept across the stage in a floor-length gown of blue tulle with silver sequin trimming.

For sophisticated occasions and first night operas, Marie Artim, selected a moulded gown of deep purple. Ann Gerhart chose a dancing frock of black velvet with white ruffles and a red taffeta skirt.

Climaxing the style show was a presentation of gowns for an entire bridal party, centered around Roz Zezenski as the bride in traditional white satin and lace.

Posing as honor attendant, Jeannette Pastalak wore a green gown, and the four bridesmaids, Frances Hanth, Jan Hanth, Shirley Corbett and Helen Shanta wore blue, shrimp, champagne and bronze.

Phyllis Malak was the green-clad flower girl and decked in a velvet suit, George Satco Jr. played the part of ringbearer. Ushers for the show were Margaret Foley, Dot Glanski, Ann Gerhart and Irene Horasky. Pete Leck, Michael Leck, Ann Stavrosky and Ann Kish decorated the stage.

TIME FOR INSPECTION

It is a good idea to examine Christmas ornaments, wreaths and holly bows quite a few days before Christmas. Then in the last minute rush you will not need to wash and iron old ribbons, dust off artificial holly or centerpieces and ornaments. Sometimes Christmas ornaments are broken when the tree is all set to be trimmed. Give yourself time to replace objects needed for Christmas enjoyment.

Teen-agers will like hot sweet cider with doughnuts when they're having the gang in. When you're heating the cider add a few whole cloves and a stick of cinnamon for spicy flavor. Light brown sugar may also be added for sweetness.

Papa Bears

Boyetown co-captains, Danny Schoenly (left) and Terry Shaner, will lead the Bears against Upper Perk this morning in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game. End Schoenly and fullback Shaner are both Seniors and will be seeing action of the Boyertown gridiron for the last time. The two have played outstanding ball for Coach Bob Fleming this season, although the Bears have suffered one of their worst campaigns, winning one, tying one and losing five.

3 Scholastic Titles At Stake Today, This Weekend

HARRISBURG, Nov. 26 (AP)—Three more schoolboy football championships ride on the outcome of annual Thanksgiving Day and weekend games which close out the 1952 high school season.

In a playoff contest Saturday, featuring two of the State's five major unbeaten untied powers, Aliquippa faces Washington for the top prize of the AA division of the WPIAL.

Lock Haven, defeated for the first time this year the past week by Williamsport, can outpoint Ebensburg on top of the Western conference standings with a season-ending triumph over Jersey Shore.

The Central Penn successor to 1951 titlist Williamsport will emerge from the Lancaster-York fray, as York's Bearcats bid for their first conference flag and the best season record in the school's history.

In the big game of the day, Aliquippa is rated a one to two touchdown favorite over Washington. The Indians beat seven double A opponents to Washington's five and look like the successor to Farrell. Washington and Aliquippa were the only two elevens from an original field of 36 to make it through the season without losing or being tied.

MIDLAND HIGH took over the WPIAL Class A title won last year by New Brighton by virtue of a 14-6 decision over German Twp. Monday night.

It was the first championship for the winners and came on the strength of 10 victories in 11 1952 contests. Carmichael beat off a late rally to edge Wilmerding, 12-6, for Class B honors of the Pittsburgh Area circuit. McDonald is Class C champ.

The York-Lancaster fray, another of those tradition-spiced turkey day events, is one that might go either way. The choice is York, by the margin of an extra point, or less if that was possible.

Another major conference race, the Eastern, will be decided in a playoff Dec. 6 between either Old Forge or West Scranton of the northern division and Sunbury of the southern division.

Minersville, lost out to Sunbury last night by falling before Coal Twp., 19-6. The Miners had won their first 10 and were out for a perfect season. It was the first time an opponent scored more than one touchdown against Minersville this year since 10 previous foes had registered only 19 points.

UPPER PERK FAVORED IN GAME AT BOYERTOWN

Boyetown will likely find out what's in a name this morning when Upper Perk comes into town for the traditional 10 o'clock Thanksgiving day grid classic.

While operating under the moniker of East Greenville High, the Yellow Jackets ran up four straight victories over the Bears. This morning the visitors will have a new handle.

A burial of the jinx, however, appears to have slim chances, although one should never count on anything in these traditional games. Boyertown (1-5-1) could tie for second in the Perkiomen Big Four by vanquishing Dave Pritchard's men. And if Royersford should lose its spark and go by the boards at Spring City, UP (4-3) could tie for the title with a win. The former possibility is much more possible.

But, then, Upper Perk will be back at full strength today with the addition of end Al Tomlinson and back Denny Roth to the starting rollcall. Bob Smith, who handles the punting chores, will also be back in booting harness although he will be spared his defensive safety assignment.

The return of Tomlinson and Roth to full-time availability has buoyed up the Perkies' spirits after the pair was missing for the team's 19-6 loss to Emmaus a week and a half ago. Both boys will be in their final grid appearance as high schoolers along with four linemen, defensive tackle Len Miklosovic and back Marty Leonard, sub back Charlie Bieler and burly Gerry Hummel, the regular right half.

End Dale Muller, tackles Johnny Olson and Dick Quigley and guard Leroy Berg are all Upper Perk Seniors. Guard Jim Conrad and center John Brunner are both Sophs, while quarterback Terry Fetterman and fullback Del Fritz are Juniors.

Trojans Meet Whippets in Final Game

Today will be salvage day at Downingtown. The Pottstown Trojans can salvage the remnants of a disappointing season with a victory this morning over the Whippets in the final game of the 1952 campaign. Kickoff time is 10 o'clock.

After starting with a rush, the Blue and White has faltered for successive losses in the last three games and to even its won-lost record for the season, a victory is a must this Thanksgiving morning.

Coach Heeb Meyers introduced 12 of the 13 Seniors to the high school student body yesterday afternoon at a Thanksgiving assembly. Only Walt Axsmith, who will miss today's game because of a broken bone in his foot, was absent at yesterday's introductions.

Saying a few words about each of the Seniors, Coach Meyers explained that the probable reason the team fell short of expectations, was that too much burden was placed on underclassmen, who are now just coming into their own.

With Sophomore Howie Bedell really hitting his stride in recent games and practices, a victory over Downingtown is not out of reach.

Playing their last game in the Blue and White are co-captains, Bob Sutton, Ron Downie and Steve Chernesky. Completing the group are Jack Bechtel (he played in the band at yesterday's event and along with Axsmith was not on the stage), Paul Stofko, Bill Garrow, redhead has shown real drive, the line in All-Star fashion. when called upon. He will also stay in on defense as one of the team's best pass defenders.

Jim Kirk, another Junior will remain at the quarterback post he won as a Sophomore mid-season in 1951. His short passing has been over the .500 mark all year and against Bridgeport he uncovered a knack for running.

A good day by fullback Bedell could send the speedy Sophomore's halfback spot on offense and yards gained total over the 600 yard switch to left end on defense. As mark. In practice Tuesday he Meyers said yesterday, trumpet-showed the same sharpness that man Jack has the main essential of a good ball player—he loves to ing running in the Berwyn game.

The three co-captains will anchor both the offensive and defensive lines. On the attacking team, Sutton is paired at the guard spots halfback and while his ball carry with Bill "Little Otto" Garrow. As ing duties have been limited, the'a defender Sutton now backs up Bedell comes in at safety when opponents are forced into a punting formation and his long run-backs provide the Trojans with one of their best scoring threats. Kirk was used to defend against passes against Bridgeport and will probably continue in that capacity.

Al Celine, plays the important fullback role, and is an arist on spin plays. Tom Pollock works at the wingback post and can be looked for on the deep reverse. Jocko Thompson does the heavy duty blocking.

The Trojans will leave at 8 o'clock this morning for Downingtown, and the rooters' bus pulls out at 8:30 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later the band will leave.

THE TROJANS 3-4-1 could be changed into an even-Stephen season with an upset win today. Downingtown, 4-3-1, looked strong in romping over Coatesville in the Whippets last outing.

Coach Howard Caskey, whose Ches-Mont champs edged by in a fourth-quarter victory the past year, will again field a husky, talented team.

Captain Eddie Law, a 220-pound all-league guard spearheads a hefty, hard-hitting line.

Key man in the Whippets' wing attack is Senior Bill Miller. He is a speedster and runs with good drive on the off-tackle power plays.

Against Coatesville Miller showed promise as a passer, something the Trojans have reason to dread in latter games the aerial defense crew has shown marked improvement.

Al Celine, plays the important fullback role, and is an arist on spin plays. Tom Pollock works at the wingback post and can be looked for on the deep reverse. Jocko Thompson does the heavy duty blocking.

Shillington lost to the Yellow Jackets, 24-0, but hit the Bears for a 13-0 decision. Muhlenberg also lost to UP, 26-7, and bounced the Bruins, 40-12. Against Royersford, neither club could claim a win, although UP went down only 12-6, as compared to the 41-6 pasting of Boyertown by the 'Fords.

Plan Turning the Trick Again

Four defensive standouts in Royersford's 25-7 win over Spring City in 1951 gather around the oval in the above shot to discuss dealing with the Bucs today at Spring City. From left to right we have: Hen Wojton, Junior defensive star back; Captain Nick Dinnoconti, offensive center, who also backs up the line; Charlie Miller, a defenseman the past year now working fulltime at offensive left half; and quarterback Lou Alexander, who sees spot stopper service. Dinnoconti and Alexander are Seniors and making their final appearance in 'Ford grid logs.

'Ford Runs Risk of Over Confidence In Annual Battle With Spring City

It would be advisable for Royersford to avoid looking at comparative scores of itself and Spring City before going into this morning's 10 o'clock game at Bucland. It'd be detrimental to their mental outlook.

For the Eagles have such an overwhelming edge on the Pirates in this traditional tilt that overconfidence could easily sift into the 'Ford gearbox.

The 'Fords, after a second straight win over the Pirates to pair with the past year's 25-7 win, are at least a three-touchdown choice here. They won't necessarily outthrust the Bucs, but they outweigh them, they outexperience them, and they've outwon them to coin a few new words of ours drummed up for the occasion.

12 Ivy Records Fall This Season; Price Sets Four

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Twelve Ivy group football records were broken during the 1952 season, five of them last Saturday, and with one more game to go—Pennsylvania vs. Cornell tomorrow—no other records are in danger.

All Penn can do is win the championship. A victory over Cornell would give Penn a 4-0 record as compared to Princeton's 6-1.

Ed Woodsum, Yale's pass-catching end, set the pace Saturday in the biggest record-breaking spree staged since official Ivy group statistics have been kept. By catching three touchdown passes from Ed Molloy, he set record marks of 11 touchdown receptions for the season and 17 for his career and 634 yards gained this season as a receiver.

But the over-all count of records this season, revealed today by the statistics, gave four to Columbia's Mitch Price and one each to Molloy and to Price's pet receiver, Al Ward. Meanwhile Harvard's triple-threat tailback, Dick Clabby, ran off with the season's rushing and total offense honors at a two-record pace. Homer Smith of Princeton was the 12th record-breaker.

Both Molloy and Price broke the old forward passing record. But Molloy, by completing 9 of 13 in bad weather in the final game against Harvard, took the title with 93 completions to price's 92. The former mark of 90 was set by Al Dekdebrun of Cornell in 1945. Ward caught 43 passes for a new season record while Woodsum received 40, equalling the old mark made by Columbia's Wes Bomm last year.

The record performances: (old marks in parentheses).

One game—Price, 322 yards passing vs. Yale (309, Paul Governali, Columbia, 1942); Homer Smith, Princeton, 273 yards rushing vs. Harvard (262, Dick Kazmaier, Princeton, 1951).

ONE SEASON—Clabby, 950 yards rushing (861, Kazmaier, 1951); Clabby, 317 offensive plays (305, Governali, 1941); Molloy, 93 completions (90, Dekdebrun, Cornell, 1945); Ward, 43 passes caught (40, Bomm, Columbia, 1951); Woodsum, 634 yards passes caught (517, Bill Swiacki, Columbia, 1947); Woodsum, 11 touchdown passes caught (8, Germann, Columbia, 1942).

Career—Woodsum, 17 touchdown passes caught (14, Larry Kelley, Yale, 1934-36); Price, 452 passes attempted (384, Governali, 1940-42); Price, 237 passes completed (180, Sid Luckman, Columbia, 1936-38); Price, 3076 yards passing (2632, Gene Rossides, Columbia, 1945-48).

Clabby, in addition to his 955 yards rushing, gained 524 yards by passing for a total of 1479. Price was second in total offense with 1321 yards, mostly on passes. Smith, with 821 yards, trailed Clabby in the rushing department. Woodsum led the Ivy scoring department with 72 points while another Yale player, Hub Pruett, captured the punting title in the final game with an average of 36.6 yards on 46 kicks to 36.5 for Ross Ellis of Dartmouth. The windup game could bring a change here, as Cornell's Bill Whelan has a 35.6 average.

Rapier Dykes Meets Mace Turner At Convention Hall Monday Night

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26 (AP)—It will be the rapier against the mace when slim Bobby Dykes, reed-like in build, pits his consummate skill against the strength, endurance and fury of Gil Turner, and also will it be the North and the South at war once more.

Dykes hails from Texas but fights out of Miami for the records, while Turner is a Philadelphia boy, Yankee born and bred.

Dykes is the master of fence, although he can hit with stunning force when he sets himself, while Turner is the furious bull, bent on smashing, overpowering and outlasting.

In their one fight before this Dykes won a close decision. Now they meet at Convent Hall here on Monday evening, December 1st, under the promotion of Herman Taylor, and the winner will be the fellow most likely to get Kid Gavilan in the ring for a title bout in the early Spring or Summer.

Each has had one crack at the welterweight crown held by the bland faced Cuban and each has

Kings Player Wins State Scoring Title

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26 (AP)—Harry Miller of Kings college won the 1952 Pennsylvania collegiate football scoring championship, the final weekly Associated Press poll disclosed today.

Miller, a fast running halfback who specialized in long runs and was an excellent pass receiver, scored 108 points on 18 touchdowns to become the first Kings college player ever to win State scoring honors.

Bob Haner, the pile-driving Villanova fullback, was a fast finishing second with 99 points. Big Haner scored a pair of TDs and converted three extra points against Boston U the past Saturday but was unable to close the big lead Miller held over him. Haner finished the season with 13 TDs and 21 extra points.

West Chester's Earl Hers wound up third on 89 points, 14 TDs and five extra points, followed by Art Massaros of Washington and Jefferson with 11 touchdowns and nine conversions for 75 points.

HATFIELD LIVESTOCK

HATFIELD, Nov. 26—Livestock receipts were as large as can be remembered for a pre-holiday market at the Hatfield Fair Grounds bazaar. The buying power was well represented. Total receipts numbered 1014 head against a run of 1001 head a week ago. Total sales amounted to $80,600 against $88,000 the previous week. The quality of the steer run was only fair. There were a few strictly choice and prime cattle, and the demand is extra good for this type cattle at this time. Other grades sold weak to $1 lower than a week ago. Heifers sold in line with last week. Bulls were 50c to $1 lower and cows were 50c to 75c lower. Calves were fully steady. Hogs were in sympathy with the recent downturn in terminal markets, averaging $1 lower. Lambs were nominally steady on strictly choice to prime grades, others were weak to $2 lower.

Poultry was rather steady on best grades compared to the previous week. Egg prices were firm on large white and brown eggs, mediums and pullets sold considerably lower.

Practical top prices follow:
Steers $34.50; bulls, $26.00; heifers, $30.00; cows, $17.50; calves, $11.00; hogs, $19.00; lambs, $27.00. Chickens—Broilers No. 1, 30c; Leghorns, 27c; fryers, 30c; 30c; Leghorns fryers, 27c; Lehigh fowl, 16c; colored, 24c; turkeys—(Extreme top), hens, 50c; toms, 39c; Ducks, 26c; geese, 26c.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

INTO ONE of those fancy new big city candy stores, seemingly modeled after the boudoir of a famed French courtesan, the wife of a Jewish newspaper editor wandered. "I'll take a pound of those chocolates," she decided. "Modom means the bon bons," a suave clerk in a cutaway corrected gently. "I also would like some of those cookies," continued the lady. "Ah," breathed the clerk, "our petits fours. Shall we deliver your purchase in our limousine?" "No, thanks," said the lady. "I'll carry them home myself." This was too much for the elegant clerk. "Don't be silly!" he burst out. "Why schlepp a package that big around the streets?"

A friend has spotted a store just off a California highway that proclaims itself: "America's biggest small-super market!" But he adds, "It's not a really good place to shop, however. The self-service is terrible!"

WHIPPED CREAM STRETCHES

Want to make a whipped cream topping for a dessert stretch? Prepare a meringue of one egg white and two tablespoons sugar and fold it gently into one cup of cream that has been whipped and lightly sweetened. To make the meringue, beat the egg white with a rotary beater until foamy, then gradually beat in the sugar until peaks form when the beater is slowly withdrawn.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

You can tell by the smiles on the faces of these Fifth graders at the Rupert school that they are anxious to get to know you. So, if you feel the same way, here they are—all pupils of teacher Lois S. Creswell. Left to right in the front row are Gard Ormsbee, Gary Kimes, Barry Borgiet, Jesse Houck, Charles Horn, Barbara Borgiet, Patricia Harp, Harry Borger, Gertrude Schmidt and Shirley Rinewalt. Row two, left to right, shows Frederick Maraffie, Martine Donner, Lane Daylor, James Yocom,

In the same order, row three includes David Fisher, Gail Knabb, Nancy Shaffer, Thomas Musick, Richard Rubendall, Barry March, Brooke Creswell and Harry De Sol.
